SECTION B: AUTHORSHIP, CONTENT RESPONSIBILITY & PUBLICATION ETHICS TERMS

By signing this form, all undersigned authors jointly and severally warrant, declare, and agree to the following terms as a mandatory condition for editorial consideration and publication in the Journal of Advanced Manufacturing Technology (JAMT):

1. Full Author Responsibility for Content: The authors bear sole and full legal, scientific, and ethical responsibility for the accuracy, integrity, validity, and originality of all data, methodologies, interpretations, figures, tables, and statements contained in the manuscript. The views and findings expressed are strictly those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the official policy or position of JAMT, the Faculty of Manufacturing Engineering, or Universiti Teknikal Malaysia Melaka (UTeM).

2. Originality, Exclusivity & Duplicate Submission: The manuscript is an original work, has not been previously published in any language or medium, and is not concurrently under editorial review or consideration by any other journal, conference proceedings, or book. All third-party copyrighted materials (figures, tables, datasets, or text excerpts) have been properly cited and cleared with written permission from the rights holders.

3. Authorship Criteria & Corresponding Author Mandate: All listed authors meet internationally recognized authorship criteria (ICMJE/COPE) by having made substantial contributions to conception/design, data acquisition, analysis, or drafting/revising the manuscript, and have approved the final submitted version. No deserving contributor has been omitted (ghost authorship) and no non-contributing individual has been included (gift/guest authorship). The Corresponding Author is authorized to manage all official editorial correspondence and maintain a verifiable communication trail.

4. Research Integrity, Data Availability & Misconduct Policy: The manuscript is free from plagiarism, citation manipulation, image tampering, data fabrication, or data falsification. Authors shall retain raw experimental/simulation data and make them available to the JAMT Editorial Board upon reasonable request during peer review or post-publication audit. Any undisclosed use of generative AI tools in data analysis or manuscript preparation is prohibited and must be transparently declared in the manuscript.

5. Conflict of Interest, Funding & Ethical Approvals: All financial support, research grants, institutional affiliations, and potential personal or commercial conflicts of interest have been fully disclosed in the manuscript. Where applicable, research involving human subjects, animals, or hazardous materials has obtained prior approval from a recognized institutional ethics committee.

6. Post-Publication Corrections, Expression of Concern & Retraction (Scopus / COPE Policy): In accordance with Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE) guidelines and Scopus content-quality standards, JAMT reserves the absolute right to issue an Erratum/Corrigendum, publish an Editorial Expression of Concern, or formally retract the published article—and notify indexing databases (including Scopus), authors' institutions, and funding agencies—if post-publication investigation reveals reliable evidence of data falsification, fabrication, plagiarism, duplicate publication, compromised peer review, or major methodological errors that invalidate the findings and render the article unreliable or lacking scientific credibility.

7. Transfer of Copyright & Open-Access Licensing: Upon formal acceptance for publication in JAMT (ISSN: 1985-3157; e-ISSN: 2289-8107), the authors hereby transfer and assign exclusively to the Publisher (Penerbit Universiti Teknikal Malaysia Melaka / JAMT) all copyright, title, and publishing rights in and to the Article and any revisions thereof across all print and electronic media. Published articles are distributed under the Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 International License (CC BY-NC-ND 4.0), while authors retain moral rights and patent/trademark rights.
